

A PITIABLE CASE.

The Hallucinations of an Industrial Railroad Man.

ROANOKE, VA., November 27.—(Special)—W. W. Tyler, an industrious employee of the Norfolk and Western yards, in this city, was to-day adjudged insane by a commission of lunacy, composed of Justices Camper, Hage, and Howerton, and will be sent to the Southwestern Asylum, at Marion, for treatment. The unfortunate man had recently been attending religious services conducted by a Miss Proctor. A feature of the services is the amount of his new wealth with which he set himself up to follow. A few nights ago Tyler and his family, consisting of his wife and two little daughters, were anointed, and since then he claims that he has had a revelation commanding him to preach the Gospel and cast out devils. Lately his hallucinations have become so strong that his neighbors decided to have him put under restraint. The result was his arrest and examination as above related. The case is a pitiable one, and much sympathy is felt for the afflicted man and family.

Runaway Accident in Floyd.

FLOYD, VA., November 27.—(Special)—Miss Alma Evans had a narrow escape yesterday, as she started from here for her home, about a mile in the country. She was driving a young horse, which took fright and dashed off, upsetting the buggy and throwing Miss Evans and a girl named Reed out. Miss Evans was thrown against a cherry tree on the side of the street, her head and shoulder striking the tree, the blow bruising her shoulder and cutting the scalp in several places. The Reed girl escaped with only a few bruises.

Randolph-Macon Defeated.

ASHLAND, VA., November 27.—(Special)—Randolph-Macon's second team was defeated at foot-ball yesterday in Fredericksburg. There was only one man of the first team playing.
